

Defendants Plead To Indictments In Supreme Court

Five Youths Charged With Unlawful Entry at New Paltz Found Not Guilty—Earl Williams Re-sentenced to Dannemora Prison, His Former Sentence Having Been Served.

Since open, eight sealed indictments and seven demurrals were reported by the grand jury in attendance at the March term of the Supreme court. The report was handed up Monday afternoon and the grand jurors were discharged by the court. Among the indictments was one against Earl Williams, colored, who was returned to this county from Clinton State Prison at Dannemora as under a recent decision his commitment was defective. Williams was sentenced in 1926 to Clinton State Prison on his plea of guilty to robbery, second degree, on information filed with the court instead of awaiting the action of the grand jury. The section of the law which was in effect at that time and which was designated to relieve the duties of the grand jury has since been held to be unconstitutional. Williams was re-sentenced under an indictment found by the grand jury and on his plea of guilty was given again the original sentence of from 2 1/2 years to 4 years in prison. The time which he has served will be deducted from his sentence and he will be eligible for parole within a few weeks. This is the first case where a defendant has been returned and indicted. Few of these cases will develop in this county as District Attorney Traver, believing the law was defective, did not take advantage of it until after it had been declared constitutional by the attorney general. After that decision several defendants were sentenced under that provision of the law but most of the sentences were of a short duration and have been served by the defendants. The higher courts reversed the decision of the attorney general and many counties found themselves facing a large number of cases.

Youths Plead Not Guilty.
Isaac Williams, 16, Ellsworth Williams, 20, Raymond Williams, 18, Timothy Hasbrouck and Charles J. Morgan, all indicted for burglary, third degree, and also unlawful entry at New Paltz on February 13 last, entered pleas of not guilty to the charges. These youths are charged with entering a pool room in the village and taking cigarettes, candy and other articles. Peter Harp appeared for Hasbrouck and Isaac Williams said F. W. Brooks was his attorney. Counsel will be assigned in the other cases.

Isaac Williams was also indicted for robbery, second degree, at New Paltz on February 15 last. It is alleged that on that date he robbed a farm hand near the railroad crossing in the village and at that time secured the knife which was used on February 24 in breaking open the pool room. The knife was found on the person and identified by the man who is alleged to have robbed. This discovery was made by Corporal Baker of the State Troopers after Williams had been arrested for the pool room burglary.

Noting Pleas, Not Guilty.
George L. Nelting was indicted for assault, second degree, alleged to have been committed on December 27, 1928, at the city of Kingston. Chris J. Flanagan appeared for the defendant and entered a plea of not guilty. He asked that bail be fixed. Assistant District Attorney Murray, who appeared for the district attorney's office in the arraignment of the prisoners, asked that the same bail of $5,000 be continued. It was stated to the court that Nelting had assaulted his wife by stabbing her and that he had made threats against his wife and also her folks on several occasions and in view of these facts it was suggested that the court fix a substantial bail. Bail was fixed, at $5,000.

Other Pleas Entered.
Willard Ramsdell entered a plea of guilty to the charge of grand larceny second degree, alleged to have been committed at the town of Saugerties on December 24, last. It is alleged he took a diamond ring. Sentence will be pronounced Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.
Herbert Robinson and Fred Muser entered pleas of not guilty to unlawful entry at Lloyd on January 12 last, and also burglary, third degree. William J. Leahy appeared for Robinson and Vernon Kelder for Muser.

Henry R. Seekamp entered a plea of guilty to burglary, third degree, at Ellenville, on January 23, and also unlawful entry. He will be sentenced Wednesday at 10 o'clock.

Cases Dismissed.
Dismissals were handed up in the following cases in which no bills of indictment were found and the defendants in jail were discharged and where the defendant was out on bail the bail bond was cancelled:
Lafayette Lee, charged with assault; Jane Demaree, larceny, second degree; John Ferraro and Joseph Tiano of Saugerties town, held for malicious destruction of property. This case was referred back by the grand jury to justice's court. Louis Gaadagnola, rape, second degree; William Hernandez, assault, third degree, at town of Rosendale.
No bill of indictment was found in the case of Albert Hutton, who drove the delivery car in which Marie Newburgh was riding when it met with an accident and the subsequently died of injuries. This mat-

South Battles Against Disease

Anti-Toxins Arrive for Use in Flood-Stricken Area—Waters Are Receding—Mississippi Levees Receive Attention.

Atlanta, Ga., March 19 (AP)—Battle against possible epidemics in the south's flood-ridden area and the gathering of funds for general use in relieving flood sufferers occupied southern states today. Last night in Alabama a movement was started for a special session of the Legislature to appropriate funds for rehabilitation.

Anti-toxins of all descriptions are arriving on every carrier for use in the stricken area in the battle against disease. William Dekle, national medical director for the Red Cross, is in active charge of the distribution and use of preventives. He is directing all sanitary measures in relief camps.

The Salvation Army has issued an appeal throughout the south for clothing for flood refugees. Throughout the flooded area, with the exception of the Alabama river and rivers of northwest Florida, waters were receding today. Alabama was above the record stage of 56 feet, established in 1886 and two industrial plants in Selma were forced to close because of floods.

Little apprehension was felt for the major part of the city, although the water was still rising today. The Alabama was reported ten miles wide near Primmose, southwest of Selma, where it makes a horseshoe bend.

While the flooded area was reported to be much larger than that around Elba, the danger to residents was not regarded as nearly so great. At River Junction, Fla., where the Flint and Chattahoochee rivers join the Appalachicola, waters inundated the business section and residents had taken to high ground. Coast Guard vessels cared for needs of flood sufferers along the Choctawhatchee river and the Naval air station at Pensacola performed like service to other districts.

The death list throughout the area continued to stand at 20 today. In the Mississippi Valley every attention was directed at weak spots in the great system of levees. Government engineers today awaited the crest of the present rise. Memphis is to have 40.5 feet of water by Sunday or Monday. The gauge there now registers 39 feet, four feet above flood level. The situation is not considered alarming.

Smith-Walker Fight in Prospect

Mayor's Activity Constructed as Desire to "Get the Jump" on Smith Faction in Choosing New Tammany Leader.

New York, March 19 (AP)—The prospect of a contest between Alfred E. Smith and Mayor Walker in the naming of a new Tammany chief added lively interest to the return of the former governor to the city today. The resignation of George W. Olvany, which was submitted to the executive committee last week and which comes up for final action Friday, has put Tammany on the necessity of choosing a new leader on the eve of a municipal election.

Mayor Walker after interviewing a dozen leaders announced yesterday he had no candidate for Olvany's successor. His activity, however, was interpreted by Democratic newspapers as being inspired at least in part by a desire to "get the jump" on the Smith faction of Tammany in the choice of a new leader.

The district leaders are said to be agreed upon only one thing in the choice of a new chief and that is that he should be named from among themselves. No candidate among them has emerged with anything like impressive support.

Definite refusal to assume the mantle of the retiring Olvany by Surrogate James Foley yesterday removed the only candidate upon whom there has been anything like agreement among all factions.

Rebels Retreat, Calles Promises Extermination

Mexican Revolution, Barely Two Weeks Old, Now Regarded as Mopping-Up Process, Northern Rebels Having Evacuated Their Stronghold at Torreon—Federal Pursuit to Be Relentless.

Mexico City, March 19 (AP)—General Plutarco Elias Calles promised President Portes Gil today a campaign of "extermination" against the retreating army of the rebel general, Jose Gonzalo Escobar.

The former Mexican president said he was "commencing immediately organization of the column which will march on Chihuahua to fight and exterminate the traitors."

The promise was contained in a message from Guadalupe Victoria, Durango. It said that temporary headquarters had been established there but that the federal generalissimo was leaving shortly either by automobile or airplane for Torreon. The message stated occupation of Torreon was complete and that aviators had told him the rebel army had stopped its retreat at Escalon, in the southeastern corner of Chihuahua. Five troop trains were on sidings here.

The message of General Calles, following as it did reports of another bloodless victory yesterday, aroused what was almost jubilation in Mexico City and at Chapultepec Castle, presidential headquarters, where it was considered certain that the rebellion was dying rapidly.

Retreat Considered Complete Rout.
No considerable opposition to the advance of General Calles into Chihuahua is expected. Escalon is regarded here as being particularly suited to defense. Retreat from Torreon, which a greatly inferior army might have held indefinitely, was taken as an implying complete rout, and rapid disintegration of the rebel forces as forecast.

Relentless of federal pursuit was indicated in another turn of affairs. General Escobar, Governor Caraveo of Chihuahua, and other rebel leaders allegedly sought a peace parley with the government. President Portes Gil replied to them declining to treat with "traitors." He repeated previous declarations of the government that the rebel leaders must suffer the consequences of their conduct.

Reports of General Calles to the presidential headquarters said airplanes late yesterday sighted a cavalry group of about 100 heading southward from Bermejillo, about forty miles north of Torreon, and he believed they intended to surrender to the federal forces. A troop train was said to have been abandoned at Ceballos, Durango, just north of Escalon. The airplanes intended to strike as far north as Jimenez in Chihuahua today.

Evacuation of Torreon and its northern suburb, Gomez Palacio, began at dawn yesterday. The first federal troops, a cavalry contingent under General Benigno Serrano, rode into the city at 5 p. m., and at 8 p. m., General Andres Almazan, principal field commander arrived.

Looted of Movable Valuables.
While reports here were meagre it was believed the federal forces found Torreon and Gomez Palacio looted of worth while movable valuables since the rebels had plenty of time to take out anything they desired. Movements of money north from Torreon had been reported for several days.

An attack yesterday on the Mexico City-Laredo passenger train in Guanajuato, near San Miguel Allende, was regarded not so much the work of rebels as of bandits. The attackers were said to have torn up tracks, and derailed several coaches but to have inflicted no casualties.

A government spokesman in summarizing the situation this morning recalled that although the rebellion was barely two weeks old the government had organized and emerged victorious from its two major offensives. The rebels in Vera Cruz under General Jesus Maria Aguirre were routed in the first days of the revolt. The northern campaign now is regarded as little more than a mopping-up process. In the two weeks campaigning the federal forces have succeeded in drawing the rebel troops into a single battle of any size. There is a tendency even in government circles to call the revolt the "bloodless revolution," although this is not quite correct.

Someone Is Marking Broadway Store Fronts

The merchants of lower Broadway are complaining of someone marking the store fronts with either soap or chalk, and state that if the perpetrators are caught that they will be arrested. Some of the merchants have recently expended considerable sums of money in improving the store fronts, and for that reason will prosecute any who are caught marking the front of the buildings.

Agents Seize Plant That Re-distilled Lacquer Thinner

Hi-Jacking in Poughkeepsie Leads to Discovery of Still of 5,000 Gallons Capacity on Farm Near Clintondale—One Man Arrested, Held in County Jail.

The trail from a seized motor truck which figured in a hi-jacking operation at Poughkeepsie last Saturday led federal prohibition agents to the Ligtone farm south of Oliveville where late Monday afternoon a large still was located. Saturday morning a truck which was later claimed by Alfred Stingone of New York city and a touring car which Poughkeepsie police contend was occupied by Rocco Germano of Wappingers Falls figured in a shooting affray on Main street, Poughkeepsie. When the shooting started the driver of the truck fled. Later Stingone claimed the truck and said it had been stolen from New York city. Germano was arrested in connection with the shooting and claimed that he had recognized the occupants of the truck as men who some time last fall attempted to hold him up. Hi-jacking operations were suspected by the Poughkeepsie police when they found the truck loaded with alleged liquor they notified U. S. Commissioner Flannery at Beacon who in turn notified the Kingston prohibition office.

Agents from the local office started out to trace the source of the liquor and finally located the big 2,500 gallon capacity still south of Oliveville. They also found 6,000 gallons of mash in tanks and 325 gallons of alcohol in five-gallon tanks.

When the agents raided the place it was in operation but the only man in evidence was Salvatore De Gregario who claimed to have but recently come from New York on a promise of a job on a farm. He was arrested and placed in jail. He claims he knows nothing of the proprietors of the still.

The agents contend that lacquer thinner used in the thinning of paint was being redistilled and made into "hooch" of a quality which was on the truck seized Saturday at Poughkeepsie.

There was a full equipment for the cleaning process and the agents remained at the farm all Monday night completing destruction and in wait for additional operators to arrive. In view of the severe penalty which may be imposed under the new Jones law it is not likely that any one connected with the still will show up while the agents are in possession, if they know of the raid. The still was located in a barn on the Charles Ligtone farm. The prisoner was being held today in the county jail pending arraignment before U. S. Commissioner A. C. Connelly.

U. S. Is Nearer World Court

Geneva, March 19 (AP)—The United States was but two steps away from adherence to the world court today, but League of Nations observers saw a distinct possibility that at least one of those steps might never be taken.

The two steps involved ratification of the protocol agreed upon yesterday by the commission of international jurists by the American Senate on the one hand and by the forty nations which comprise the League of Nations on the other.

Little opposition to the protocol was expected in the American Senate, since it is believed that Elihu Root, its author, conferred with the jurists here with the sanction of President Hoover and Republican leaders.

Approval by member nations of the League, however, presents quite a different matter. A single nation's disagreement with the terms of the protocol will be sufficient to prevent American adherence to the court under its terms. It is believed easily possible that some one state, or even more, may rebel against the conditions of the convention as according to privileged a position to the United States.

POWER DEVELOPMENT BILLS INTRODUCED

Albany, March 19 (AP)—Bills to provide for the creation of a board of trustees under which development of the power resources of the St. Lawrence river would be carried on in accordance with Governor Roosevelt's plan, were introduced in the Legislature today. The measures were submitted by the minority leaders of the two houses, Senator Bernard Downing and Assemblyman Maurice Bloch.

Hoover Cautious In Picking Men For Enforcement

Professional Leaders of Wets and Drys to Be Barred from Commission to Investigate Law Enforcement Including Prohibition—Many Names Already Eliminated.

Washington, March 19 (AP)—President Hoover is moving with caution in the difficult task of picking those who are to compose his law enforcement commission. The best information available is that he has not yet definitely decided on a single member.

Scores of names have been presented for his consideration, but many of these already have been eliminated for one reason or another and he now is described as literally scouring the country in the effort to find suitable men who will be willing to undertake so gigantic a task. The personnel of this commission probably will be more carefully scrutinized by the country than any that has been named, certainly in many years. This will be largely by reason of the fact that an investigation of the enforcement of the prohibition amendment is to be included in its work.

This phase of the whole inquiry will be the one to attract the greatest public attention and probably will require more exhaustive study than any other. Leaders of the organized wets and drys, as well as many others, will be heard and the testimony of many present and former prohibition enforcement officers will be taken.

In the effort to find the causes of present abuses in the enforcement of the prohibition amendment the commission will inquire into Federal enforcement statutes to determine whether the abuses are inherent in those laws, and if so, what changes might reasonably be expected to relieve the situation.

Free Hand in Dry Enforcement.
Meanwhile, there are to be increased efforts at enforcement of the Volstead and other dry acts. Entrained by Mr. Hoover are regarded as friendly to the prohibition cause and it is expected that they will be given a free hand in the effort to dry up the country.

President Hoover has not yet announced precisely what enforcement activities now carried forward by the Treasury will be transferred to the Justice department, nor is it clear whether he holds such transfer can be made without an act of Congress.

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt is in charge of prohibition enforcement in the Justice department, and it is understood that when the transfer is made the scope of her duties as Assistant Attorney General will be considerably enlarged.

Because of the very nature of the work it will have to do, the President's law enforcement commission is expected to be composed largely, if not entirely, of lawyers. Mr. Hoover wants to select outstanding men who have had broad experience in studying the general subject of enforcement.

ILLNESS OF CONSTANCE BENNETT REVEALS DIVORCE

Paris, March 19 (AP)—Illness of Constance Bennett, American actress and daughter of Richard Bennett, has revealed her divorce was pending from her husband, Philip M. Plant, in a French court.

Plant, who inherited approximately $15,000,000 from his stepfather, Commodore Morton F. Plant, remained in close attendance at his former wife's bedside during a severe attack of appendicitis. Now, that her condition is much better he has made arrangements to sail on the Ile de France for America.

Plant and Miss Bennett were married in 1925 at Greenwich, Conn., where they resided a marriage clerk at 2:30 a. m., to expedite the ceremony. Miss Bennett previously had been married "on a dare" to a college student in 1921, but it was annulled.

Jenks Dry Bills May Be Revived

State Assembly May Overrule Its Former Action and Vote for Original Bill—Passage by Senate Considered Remote.

Albany, March 19 (AP)—The Jenks prohibition enforcement bills were back in the legislative limelight today. Indications that the measures would come up for vote in the Assembly at least at this session were given last night by Assemblyman William H. Sargent, Onondaga Republican.

The dirty career of the bills has seen them approved, withdrawn, amended, killed, reconsidered, again amended, voted out of committee and re-committed by assembly vote.

Edmund B. Jenks, introducer of the lower house for its action in re-committing them last week during his absence. He termed the action "discourteous" and "thanked those who stood by the bills while he was away from Albany owing to illness in his family."

Assemblyman Sargent said he would cast his vote with what he said were 75 other supporters of an enforcement bill that would provide for reporting out in the assembly of what now is a one-half of one percent enforcement measure.

Doubt Fate in Senate.
Observers, however, still considered possibility of the passage by the senate of such a bill as remote, as they tallied 27 votes against such action to 24 for it in the upper house.

Sargent said he was "opposed to the codes committee reporting a measure I felt sure could not pass the senate and become law, as I know this would only serve unnecessarily to embarrass members from doubtful districts."

He also declared he was "opposed to the unusual procedure resorted to here last week whereby the amendment suggested by me in a good faith and adopted by the codes committee was not even given a second hearing to say nothing of a proper hearing on its merits. My vote to recommit the Jenks bill was a protest against such haste, and I believe, ill-advised action."

Majority leaders were understood to be giving some attention to a county plan of enforcement.

Automobile Suit In Supreme Court

In the Supreme court Monday afternoon the verdict in the negligence case brought by Mrs. Florence S. Connor of Brooklyn against Ralph M. Thompson of Brooklyn and Pine Hill for $25,000 was taken and the usual motion to set aside the verdict was denied by the court. John W. Eckert, who tried the case for plaintiff's counsel, asked that an opportunity be given him to confer with his associates and reservations of motions be made until he had conferred.

An inquest was taken in an action brought by Minnie Wood of Highland against Arthur V. Laggett and another for damage to plaintiff's automobile which was damaged in a collision on August 18, 1927. A verdict for $475 was rendered. Frank T. Murray appeared for the plaintiff.

Trial of an action brought by Alexander Sherbohn against Manhattan Moon Company, Inc., and the Germain-Morgan Motor Sales Company of this city was taken up for trial with a jury. The plaintiff claims he purchased a Moon car through the local company. It was represented to him as a 1923 model and he later found it was a 1927 model. A Buick car was taken in trade and an allowance of $500 was made for that car. The price of the Moon was $1,499. The value of the previous model, according to testimony, was but $700. Plaintiff seeks to recover for the difference in value of the 1927 and 1923 models which he alleges is $799. The car has been in storage since the error was discovered. No defense is being entered by the Germain-Morgan Company which has been dissolved. The contention is that there was no deceit and that a 1927 car and a 1923 car were duplicated. Chris J. Flanagan appears for plaintiff and Robert F. Groves appears for the defendant. The case was continued today.

No. 144, an action for ejectment brought by Noah Palmieri against Edison Dimsey, et al., was discontinued.

Gov. Roosevelt Names McNamee

Governor Roosevelt Monday evening sent to the senate at Albany the nomination of Daniel V. McNamee of Hudson as justice of the Supreme court to succeed the late Supreme Court Justice George H. Smith of Monticello.

Judge McNamee was the democratic candidate for Supreme Court justice last fall but was defeated. His running mate, Judge Smith, however, was elected.

Judge McNamee has served six years as county judge in Columbia county, and has been a resident of Hudson since 1911. He was born in Chatham, Columbia county, on October 12, 1874. He was admitted to the bar in New York city in 1899, and practiced in Philmont for two years after which he removed to Hudson where he has since resided. Judge McNamee is married and has six children, four girls and two boys.

Copeland Gates Struck by Engine

Milk Truck Struck by Locomotive on Neighborhood Road Crossing of West Shore Railroad—Gates Not Hurt but Son Was Injured—Truck Wrecked.

Copeland E. Gates, of the Kingston Farms at Lake Katrine and his six and a half year old son, Harry, had a narrow escape from death shortly after 2 o'clock Monday afternoon when the milk truck they were riding in was struck and wrecked by a locomotive on the Neighborhood Road crossing of the West Shore Railroad. Mr. Gates escaped with a few bruises but his son was quite badly injured and was rushed to the Kingston Hospital where an X-ray showed that the boy had not sustained a fracture of the skull. Later the boy was removed to the home of his grandfather, Dr. Aden C. Gates, on Clinton avenue. It is not expected that the boy's injuries will prove serious.

Mr. Gates, who is a son of Dr. Gates, owns a large dairy farm at Lake Katrine on the Neighborhood Road, and supplies a large milk route in Kingston. Monday afternoon he left his farm with his loaded milk truck and his young son accompanied him. According to Mr. Gates when he approached the railroad crossing he saw a long freight train approaching the crossing from the north.

The freight train was moving slowly and he had ample time to cross the tracks ahead of it. Glancing south he did not observe a locomotive backing toward the crossing from the direction of Kingston and it was not until he was on the railroad crossing that he heard the locomotive whistle. Startled to see the approaching locomotive Mr. Gates saw that he had crossed the tracks to get across the tracks as it was impossible to back off, and he had just about cleared the southbound tracks when the locomotive struck the large truck in the rear, hurling it around and turning it over alongside the tracks.

Mr. Gates when he picked himself after the crash found that he was apparently unhurt but that his son was injured. The boy was taken to the hospital at once where X-ray pictures were taken to ascertain if he had sustained a fracture of the skull. The boy was badly cut and bruised about the head. After seeing that his son had received all the attention possible and that the boy's injuries were not as bad as at first thought Mr. Gates returned to the scene of the wreck. He found that the truck had been badly damaged while the load of milk bottles was a total loss.

He returned to his farm for a further supply of milk and also got in touch with Boice Brothers, milk dealers, who kindly came to his assistance and furnished him with a sufficient supply of milk to supply his trade, and deliveries were made as quickly as possible.

This morning it was stated that the boy was resting as comfortably as could be expected at the home of his grandfather, Mr. Gates aside from a bump on the head and a few bruises found himself uninjured.

WANTS DEALERS TO HELP RECOVER STOLEN ANTIQUES

Ephrata, Pa., March 19 (AP)—Appeals were broadcast today by the Rev. W. K. Beckett, pastor of the Seventh Day Baptist Society, asking the cooperation of antique dealers to aid in the recovery of antiques stolen from the Ephrata Cloisters Sunday night.

The stolen articles were part of the highly-prized collection that has been stored here for several hundred years, and included corner cupboards, an umbrella stand of square pottery, a dough tray and a number of smaller articles. The thieves gained entrance by breaking a lock 50 years old.

More than two centuries ago by a devout religious sect in the now famous building the Bible was translated into English by Peter Miller, and the monks wrote the translation in magnificent penmanship.

During the Revolutionary War soldiers wounded in the battle of Brandywine were brought to Ephrata and cared for by the Sisters of the Cloisters, and General Washington made many visits to the place.

"My Thirty Years at Sea"

By CAPTAIN GEORGE FRIED

While the Antiope was being launched and cleared the ship's side without mishap. She went toward the Antiope manned by using three cars on each side and one steering sweep car. The boat rode like a duck on the water. I secured for a position to round the Antiope's bow, where her men were ordered to be ready with heaving lines to assist in getting the boat alongside. The boat finally got abreast of hatch number one and the men were ordered to jump. While waiting for them to jump, their condition made them slow in getting off—the boat was pounding heavily against the ship's side and was in grave danger of being capsized by the wash from her high protruding clipper bow. Twelve men were in the boat when she headed for the President Roosevelt, which meanwhile had moved to a position 100 yards to leeward of the Antiope.

Chapter XIX—Part II.

Tuesday, January 22, at daylight we hoisted colors at half mast in honor of our two lost men and shortly after the Antiope hoisted her colors. The weather continued with snow and hail squalls and mountainous seas running. The Antiope sent urgent appeals by signals and an effort was made to get a line to her by firing the life gun. Shot after shot failed. Finally, Col. C. C. Hearn, U. S. A., suggested using a long spiral spring between projectile and line, the two previously having parted. Mr. Erickson was manning the gun. I ordered him to decrease the charge. This proved effective. We also tried rockets but they failed, being carried too easily by the wind. The crew of the Antiope now had a life line and was hauling it in. We lowered Number Three boat unmaneuvered and attached the line to it but as it was being pulled over the edge of the Antiope's hull, the sharp edge cut the rope. I circled around in an effort to pick up the boat but the seas were running too high to attempt it and shortly after the boat capsized. It was my intention to give the Antiope crew a boat so that the men would have some means of escape, should she go down during the night.

The next day we tried towing an unmanned boat toward the freighter. The long line was attached to the aft king post. By coming up close to the Antiope's stern and swinging sharply around, the object was to get the line on her deck where the crew could reach it and haul it in. At the end of this maneuver we were laying close to the Antiope's bow, with the tow line leading under her keel and the life boat close to her stern. If they had had a grapple or one of the crew had jumped overboard with a line around him, they could have gotten the boat. But they were exhausted by exposure and lack of food for two days.

At 4 p. m. the weather moderated and the barometer started to rise steadily. Number Six lifeboat was made ready in charge of Mr. Miller, with a crew of seven men including Fourth Officer Frank M. Upton. I again maneuvered the President Roosevelt within about 100 yards to the windward of the Antiope. At 7:20 p. m. the boat ber Three was made ready while I again took a position 100 yards away. Mr. Miller was again in charge with Third Officer Thomas Sloan, Mr. Upton and seven men. They again proceeded to the wreck and got alongside number one hatch. Aided by bright moonlight but with a heavy swell running, the lifeboat was alongside easier than before. The remaining 13 of the Antiope's crew jumped into the boat and returned to the President Roosevelt, which had resumed its previous position to leeward of the freighter. This lifeboat was also damaged and could not be taken aboard. The men were all ordered to bed, given nourishment and then examined and treated by the ship's surgeon, Dr. Doldorf.

The total detention was three days, 22 hours and 20 minutes. With three long blasts from the steam whistle and three rousing cheers from the crew and passengers, we proceeded on our voyage. The Antiope was listing 50 degrees to starboard, both forward and after well decks under water, with every indication she would not stay afloat more than a few hours.

The whole crew mourned deeply the loss of their two shipmates and at 4 p. m. that afternoon after we all got a little rest, Dr. Joseph Cochran of the American Church in Paris conducted impressive services in the social hall with passengers and crew attending. The night the men were lost prayer and services were held by Dr. Cochran and Mr. Martin D. Whelan.

(Tomorrow: The Florida Rescue.)

The boat finally got abreast and the men were ordered to jump.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

 WHAT THE BILE DOES.

I talked so much about the liver a few months ago that my readers must have thought I was "liver minded" as someone has put it.

I pointed out that it was the biggest organ in the body; contained one-quarter of all the blood that was in the body; that it separated the poisons out of the blood (was the washerwoman) of the blood; took sugar out of the blood and stored it as glycogen until the body had need of it; helped to make the coloring matter of the blood; and also manufactured bile.

I tried to point out that a liver that was sluggish, didn't get squeezed, or shaken up by exercise, would have all its jobs or uses interfered with, and so the individual who ate too much or took no exercise was likely to have a depressed, a "liverish," a "yellow" feeling.

And now just a word about the bile which is manufactured by the liver. As you know it breaks up the fats so they can be absorbed into the blood.

It also kills off dangerous organisms, and it is also a natural purgative. This means that bile flowing into intestine takes care of foods that might prove dangerous and also hurries these foods along the intestine and outside the body.

And now we are hearing of another job that the bile does that excites our admiration still further.

As you know in the intestine any work left undone by the saliva in the mouth or the gastric juice in the stomach, is completed by the pancreatic juice which is poured onto the food from the pancreatic gland as the food leaves the stomach and enters the small intestine. It has been found that if the nerves are cut which go to the pancreatic gland to make it pour out its juice, still some pancreatic juice will flow.

Why? Because the bile sets free a substance from the walls of the intestine, which passing into the blood, acts as a chemical messenger, to the pancreas, and it then pours out its juice. The bile is Nature's messenger to the pancreas telling it that more pancreatic juice is needed.

You can readily understand therefore why I do try to have everybody do a little bending exercise every day, and thus squeeze the liver and make the bile flow into intestine.

Deep breathing will also send the lungs down against the floor of chest or ceiling of abdomen and so squeeze the liver.

When you think of what the bile does for you, it would appear that this much work or exercise to stimulate its flow is certainly worth the effort.

Life on the Moon

Scientists are agreed that there is no human or animal life on the moon. As to vegetable life, there is disagreement. Some say great tracts of vegetation spring up and die every seven days.

The 1929 Oldsmobile is winning even greater admiration from owners, because it is

DESIGNED TO DO ALL THINGS WELL

It is a relatively simple engineering task to design a car that emphasizes only a few qualities at the sacrifice of others. It is an engineering achievement, however, to combine all desirable qualities to an outstanding degree in a balanced whole. Yet that is exactly what Oldsmobile engineers have done in the new 1929 Oldsmobile.

You have only to drive it to realize what brilliant all-round performance it provides. Its big high-compression engine now delivers 62 horsepower. And the piston pins are pressure-lubricated, a feature formerly characteristic of high-priced automobiles.

In appearance, this finer Oldsmobile is as beautiful and as smart as any car on automobile row. Its grace of line—its perfection of detail—its harmony of color—all bespeak the artistry of Fisher craftsmanship.

The interiors are as luxuriously appointed and richly upholstered as well. And the new Fisher adjustable front seat, combined with Oldsmobile's adjustable steering wheel, assures a comfortable driving position.

NEW LOWER PRICE $875

Come in. Drive the 1929 Oldsmobile. Enjoy the results of full development of all the qualities that contribute to motor- ing pleasure.

The Use of Your Present Range Boiler

provides a means whereby you may enjoy an automatic hot water service at an extremely low price. A covering of high insulating value is included in the purchase of the Rex Patrol Gas Water Heater. This cover is simply laced around your present range boiler and prevents heat losses which before were wasted by radiation.

In this age of science and invention, hours and minutes of time have become more and more precious. It is therefore the duty of home owners or home makers to avail themselves of every advantage offered by present day labor-saving appliances.

Hot Water is one of the most effective agencies whereby the drudgery of housekeeping is minimized. The Rex Patrol Gas Water Heater, attached to your present range boiler, offers a simple, convenient and decidedly low priced method of solving your water heating problem.

St. Remy Forms
Community Club

A community club was organized in the lecture room of the St. Remy Reformed Church on Friday evening, March 15, by the Rev. Philip Goertz of Port Ewen who at present is acting as a supply to this church.

The object of this organization is to promote the community spirit and do the things that are of the best interest to all. About 25 men responded to the invitation and after the objectives were explained by Mr. Goertz, those present were willing to make it a permanent organization and steps were taken to select its officers, resulting as follows: President, Lester Vining; vice president, Harold Van Vliet; secretary, Harry Ellsworth; treasurer, Harry Havlin.

The following committees were appointed by the president: Constitutional—Mr. Spohrer, Schneider and Vining. Musical—Otto Havlin, Mordick and Miss Frost.

Meetings are to be held the first and third Thursdays of each month and the dues are to be 25 cents per month.

The committee in charge for the entertainment at the next meeting which is to be held Thursday night, March 21, at 8 o'clock, is Lewis Van Vliet, chairman, assisted by Mr. Shultis, Johnson and Frank Van Vliet, and judging from the interest these men have already taken, it is safe to say they are planning to make it very interesting.

It was also discussed at this meeting whether or not the club would be complete without the ladies and the general trend of opinion was that it would not, so no doubt this matter will be taken up again at the next meeting and no doubt they will be asked to form an auxiliary and join the men to help do their bit.

Corbett's Hose Card Party.

Corbett's Hose Company will hold a card party tonight at their rooms on Delaware avenue. Playing starts at 8 o'clock sharp. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments served. The public is invited.

Boys Will Be Entertained Here

In connection with the Ulster County Basketball Tournament, which is being held in the local Y. M. C. A., it is necessary for the boys who are on the competing teams to be entertained on Friday night in the homes of Kingston. The entertainment to consist of lodging and breakfast on Saturday morning.

The committee in charge would appreciate the courtesy if the good folks of Kingston who could take one or more of these boys into their homes, would call the Y. M. C. A. (telephone 1100) and notify the office secretary. It will be necessary to entertain 50 boys and their coaches, and the committee feels sure that many of their friends will be willing to assist them.

You can make these foods taste better!

Pillsbury's Best Flour gives a delicate, unmistakably finer flavor to everything you bake. There is a sound scientific reason for this. Certain kinds of wheat have more flavor than others, and make a richer flour. The food editors of women's magazines—women who have studied baking all their lives—will tell you this same thing—that flour has a lot to do with the flavor of the foods you bake.

Pillsbury's Best Flour is made only from carefully selected, full-flavored wheat. It will improve the flavor of all your baking. Try it yourself—bake your next cake or biscuits with Pillsbury's Best—notice how much better they taste.

Put a "handful of health" in the muffins tonight

IT TAKES only a few minutes to make bran muffins if you use the famous ALL-BRAN recipe. Just try it. You'll get the lightest, fluffiest, best muffins you ever took from the oven. All the family will surely praise your skill that night!

And remember, you'll be helping them to better health at the same time. For so many foods are lacking in bulk or roughage. And it is this lack that so often causes constipation—which in turn steals energy and health and may even cause serious disease.

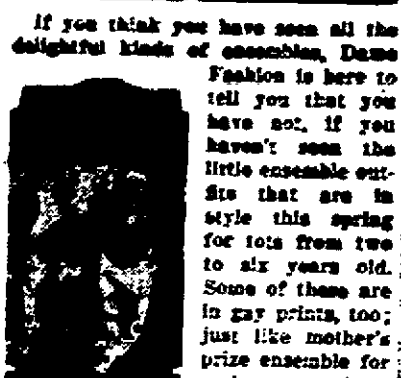

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides bulk in generous quantity because it is 100% bran. By serving it in some form every day you can protect your family. So many ways to serve it too. In waffles, breads. Sprinkled into soups. Mixed with other cereals. And, of course, with milk or cream, fruits or honey.

Dame Fashion Smiles

By Grace Jewett Austin

If you think you have seen all the delightful kinds of ensembles, Dame Fashion is here to tell you that you have not. If you haven't seen the little ensemble outfit that are in style this spring for tots from two to six years old. Some of these are in gay prints, too; just like mother's prize ensemble for early warm days, only of course the figures of the designs are simpler. These little dress-length coats, with lining and lapels in fancy design the same as the little dress beneath, would beguile a smile out of a cigar store wooden Indian—the very most stolid object that Dame Fashion can bring to mind. (And, by the way, they say there are collectors who are buying in such quantities and giving large prices for them, so if you have one stored away, he might be worth a lot of pin money.)

Perhaps you will think that Dame Fashion is also collecting freaks when she tells you that just recently she has heard of "aesthetic overalls!" With alarm clocks and gas stoves and bathroom soap dishes turning into all sorts of fancy colors, it would be a shame if the overall should not add a touch of gaiety to its primal blue, or blue and white in stripes. No one yet has dared to suggest a violent color change from the serviceable blue, but some manufacturers, it is said, are planning to add bandmaster stripes of red down the legs of the garments. A whole great building in course of construction, with all workers in such garb, would look like Sousa's band in action.

It has been an interesting feature of spring wholesale buying that continued large orders have been placed for velvet, with brown and French blue perhaps in the lead for colors. This is good hearing for many of us who are so fond of our velvet dresses that only a genuine summer thermometer will make us shut them up in the careful dress bags which are such good repositories for dresses temporarily laid aside.

All the way from the bleak east winds of Boston comes a suggestion that might have been expected to hail from a more tropic and sentimental region. It is the idea that the scarf has come to represent in this modern time a mode of expressing unspoken thoughts, just as the fan was used in former days. Then it was felt that by a single turn of the wrist volumes could be told by the fan. In this new language of the scarf, particularly the rectangular ones, there is supposed, according to Boston, to be great power. From that "stern and rock-bound coast" of the Pilgrim Fathers comes the sentence, "Much more interesting is the white shoulder that peeks coyly through a scarf of filmy material than if boldly presented to view."

Color Contrast Marked in New Costume Suits

Color contrast is stressed. Witness the group of costume suits of the red shades called tomato and cherry, which have blouses, and whose coats are lined with black, and collared and cuffed with black trimmer, baby lamb or astrakhan. Certainly you couldn't find a more decided contrast than that, unless you take the brown or beige suit that has an orange blouse and lining. But the latter is more usual.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

THE EASTER "BONNET" DOES THE UNEXPECTED

New York—Whatever may be the result of Paton's war on the large hat, and the influence of long and billowing silhouettes on the summer chapeau, the Easter "bonnet" remains small. It has its unusual features however, the most important of which is that it is worn so that the brow is exposed, and the ears completely hidden. Such hats must necessarily be made of soft fabrics, and while straws are more important than they have been for years, only such straws as are inclined to draped and fitted effects find early favor. Trimmings are placed to accent this line.

The combination of felt with straw remains of interest. While two-color effects are in order, they are not, at this writing, as smart as the monotone hat, with a contrast introduced perhaps in a feather fancy or an ornament.

Hats have a stunning practice of shooting out at one side, or of being long at the back, the brim pleated or folded into the contour of the head. The fitted hat is the only one worthy of the name this spring.

Quite naturally the more formal and bouffant dress types in vogue will bring about a desire for capelines, but town clothes are relatively straight, and the small hat preserves the desired proportion. Crowns remain as shallow as is consistent with the wearers' coiffure. Incidentally Talbot has dared, to attach little clusters of curls to the backs of some of her more extreme models, but this is a fashion hardly interesting to the rank and file of women, whose present concern is for a close-fitting, early spring model on flattering lines, and in flattering tones, bright blue being one of the more popular ones. 442 of the 451 important Hollywood actresses use Lux Toilet Soap

BETTY BRONSON, Warner Brothers' star, in the luxurious marble bathroom built in Hollywood just for her charming youthfulness. She uses Lux Toilet Soap not only in her bathroom, but in her dressing room on location—wherever her pictures are being made.

The next time you see her in a close-up, notice how smooth this daintily fragrant white soap keeps her skin.

She says about Lux Toilet Soap: "A star must have smooth skin for the close-up. I find this lovely soap is wonderful for my skin."

Betty Bronson

"SMOOTH SKIN is a perpetual attraction," says Allan Dwan, famous director—and sums up what 39 foremost Hollywood directors have learned from the movies.

"The kind of rose-petal skin which can pass the test of the close-up is the kind of beauty that gets the American public every time," he goes on to say.

It is for this reason that 9 out of 10 screen stars use Lux Toilet Soap. They have found that it keeps their skin satiny and soft—always. And all the great film studios have made this white fragrant soap the official soap in their dressing rooms.

WEST SHOKAN.

West Shokan, March 18.—The recent spring weather and subsequent rains have cleared the landscape of its accumulation of winter's snow, which the swollen mountain streams have carried into the lower valleys of the reservoir. Although the ice fields are still holding fast, the Hudson and Bushkill streams are cutting their way at the shore lines and the debris within a week the ice will be disappeared.

The sun weather on Sunday brought forth a parade of motorists for a drive around the reservoir.

The services on Sunday were well attended. The text chosen for the sermon, which was to be delivered by the Rev. Mr. Abrams, was that which was selected by President Hoover at his inauguration. "Where there is no vision, the people perish, but he that keepeth the law, happy shall he be."

The old rail fences built by our forefathers are gradually finding their way upon the family woodpile, where they serve the purpose of summer firewood. Michael Dwyer recently utilized the remains of a rail fence built by his father about 58 years ago. There are still to be found chestnut rails along the old stone walls of line fences that are no doubt 100 years old, and many are still in a sound state of preservation, which bears mute evidence of the enduring qualities of the chestnut timber which now is a thing of the past in this section of the country, having been killed by the blight which began to show its fatal effects upon the stately chestnut trees about 25 years ago.

District Meeting Of Methodists

A very special group meeting of the Kingston District of the New York Conference of the M. E. Church will be held at Sangerties Tuesday, March 21. The meeting will start at 11 a. m. and continue throughout the day and will be under the direction of the Rev. George A. Shabazz, district superintendent. In the evening there will be a large meeting with the Rev. A. A. Parker, D. D., principal of the Methodist Theological Seminary at Johnson City, N. Y., as the speaker. The Rev. Dr. Parker will be present throughout the whole day at the group meeting. The morning will be devoted to the study of the district program while the afternoon will be devoted to the study of the larger program of the church. The pastors and the delegates from the several churches from Pine Hill to Havana are expected to be present at this meeting. For those visitors who attend there will be a lunch and supper served at very moderate prices.

WOMAN BROKE PAROLE WHEN SHE REMARRIED.

Gertrude Harding of Albany, town of Sangerties, whose parole from the State Home for Mental Defectives at Rome, N. Y., was broken on March 11, because she remarried without first obtaining a divorce, has been in the care of Sheriff Arthur Kline since Sunday, awaiting officers from the state institution.

The woman, who is 36 years of age, married Andrew O'Brien, 24, of Catskill on Monday, March 11. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Andrew Hansen. When taken into custody by Sangerties police officers the woman said she thought her former husband had died.

The world is so full of a number of things that it is next to impossible to keep up payments on all of them.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Simple Apron Style.

6408. Percale in blue and white blocked figures is here pictured, with facings of white broadcloth, and blue bias seam binding. Gingham could be used for this practical, easy to make apron. Also unbleached muslin or sateen with pipings in a contrasting color. The body of the apron is joined to a circular shoulder yoke. The closing is at the center back.

The pattern is cut in four sizes: Small, medium, large and extra large. To make this design in a medium size will require 1 1/2 yard of material 32 inches wide or wider. To face yoke and pockets with contrasting material requires 1/2 yard. To finish with bias binding as illustrated will require seven yards.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Fashion Book Notice.

Frank Elston is being held in the Ulster county jail to await a hearing before Justice of the Peace Sahler at Stone Ridge on a charge of assault in the third degree.

STUNNING COATS

MATERIALS that give a feeling of richness and softness are most favored in the first spring coat collections. The uneven hemline, so popular throughout the winter season, appears on some coats. Exquisite furs are used as trimming.

It's Better to Buy Well
Than to Buy Often!

DO you prefer to make sure of the continuous performance of the furniture you buy—or to make the buying of furniture a continuous performance?

When you buy good furniture, you buy it for good!

When you buy inferior furniture it is a case of buy, buy again!

The difference between the two kinds is the difference between being served and being "sold".

The safe plan is to buy quality furniture first. Then you need never experience the poor performance of imitations.

We sell only good furniture. You never wear out its quality—and it never wears out its welcome.

Monday Club Will Cooperate

Votes to Cooperate With Federation of Women's Clubs in Protection of Trees and Starting City Tree Nursery.

The last 1928-29 meeting of the Monday Club was held on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Keeyon, and at this meeting officers for the ensuing year were elected. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Burgevin, Mrs. Davis acted both as secretary and treasurer. As a result of the course of lectures given by the Monday Club this year, there remained in the club treasury something of $225.

A letter was read from the State

Federation calling attention to the Home Making Center of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs, now in operation at the Grand Central Palace in New York City.

This marvelous exhibition of all that has to do with home making will be in the nature of a real working laboratory for all home makers, as there will be lectures, etc., given. All women members of the Federation through affiliated clubs or as individual members are privileged to visit this exhibition free of charge and are urged to do so while in New York City.

Following a report of the open meeting of the Kingston Federation held last Saturday afternoon, it was voted to empower officers of the Monday Club to cooperate in any way possible with the Federation in whatever action it shall take looking toward the protection of Kingston's fine trees, the starting of a city tree nursery, etc.

It was also voted to make a contribution of $20 to what is known as "The Daily Bread League" of the Kumaoto Hospital of the Resurrection of Hope (Leper Hospital) founded by Miss Hiddell, Japan.

This sum of money will provide food for one entire day for the entire hospital, which in its food Samaritan work for these most grievously afflicted people, so many of them perishing from want of food and culture, is most Christlike.

Since the Monday Club will be the first club in the fall to act as hostesses of the open Federation meeting, it was voted to give the officers power to arrange for a suitable program for that occasion.

This club has decided to make a study of "Modern Literature" next year, with lectures to be given by Assistant Professor E. N. Voorhees of the Department of Literature at St. Stephen's College. The program committee was given the power to complete the full program for next year.

The final act at Monday's meeting was the election of officers as follows: President, Mrs. William Lawrence; vice president, Mrs. Charles De la Vergne; secretary, Mrs. George Burgevin; treasurer, Mrs. William M. Davis.

ACTIVITIES AT RONDOUT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The last of the series of church family suppers for the winter will be held Thursday evening at 6 o'clock in the chapel of the Rondout Presbyterian Church. The supper will be served by a committee under the direction of Mrs. John R. Monroe and Mrs. Charles D. Carter. The regular study classes will meet in the chapel later in the evening.

The annual meeting of the North River Presbyterian Society will be held in the church on Friday, April 12.

A meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society will be held Thursday evening in the chapel.

On Easter Sunday, March 31, the cantata "The Holy City" will be presented at a 4 o'clock vesper service in the church. Mrs. Henry F. Dunbar and Miss Harriet Spink will be the soprano soloists; Miss Virginia Los Kamp, solo contralto; Leonard F. Stine, baritone; Mrs. Ralph Glendenning, mezzo soprano, and Mrs. William Milk, alto.

At the vesper service in the church on Sunday afternoon, March 24, Frank R. Powley will speak on a transient's religious experiences in Florida.

West Park Man Tells

How Nu-Erb Helped

Wife and Himself

"Brought Splendid Relief To Liver And Bowel Troubles," Says Mr. Ackert.

"For a great number of years I have suffered from what I imagine was a sluggish liver," said Mr. Henry Ackert, West Park, N. Y. (Near Kingston) the other day in a statement to the Nu-Erb man at McBride Drug Store, 312 Wall St.

"I'd get staggering dizzy spells and when stooping over dark spots would seem to appear before my eyes, which gave me a sick, nauseated feeling. I'd awaken each morning with a bad taste in my mouth, coated tongue and had no energy to go about my work. I became very nervous and I was a chronic victim to constipation."

"Nu-Erb has given me the most relief that I have had from these troubles. It has stopped the dizzy spells and spots before my eyes. It has strengthened my nerves and my bowels are acting better than they have for many years."

"My wife has also used Nu-Erb for kidney ailments from which she suffered. She was troubled with backache, getting up nights and other kidney weaknesses. Nu-Erb was equally effective with her case and only this morning she was saying that she has less trouble in that way than she has had for many years."

years. We both gladly recommend it."

Viña Delmar

Author of

BAD GIRL

and BAD GIRL'S BABY

is writing again in the

DAILY MIRROR

New York's BEST Picture Newspaper.

Gorgeously human, straightforward, and vital, Viña Delmar's writing has been acclaimed by the critics.

"Bad Girl" and "Bad Girl's Baby" were unprecedentedly popular when they were printed in the Mirror. Now come more stories—a series of four-day novels—each one just as real, just as human, just as interesting....

Only Viña Delmar could have written them; the author who knows the everyday girl, her life and love affairs, her thrills and passions. And knows what men plan and think, as well.

You will thrill when you read this series of stories; slices from the lives and loves of real girls and men living the everyday life of the cities, in the Daily Mirror. The first one starts tomorrow.
